

Jolly Gestures St. Joe's Gives Back

The spirit of giving back to our community has been a trademark of St. Joseph's Healthcare Hamilton since our Founding Sisters opened their doors to the sick in 1890. At St. Joe's, we know that compassionate care isn't just about providing accessible treatment, but that it extends outside the hospital walls, and into the homes of the people we serve. This year we're highlighting three of several staff-initiated holiday programs that aim to spread Christmas cheer and the spirit of hope to all.

The Holiday Matching Program was launched twelve years ago by the St. Joseph's Department of Social Work and has successfully sponsored over 1,000 individuals in that time. Starting in early November each year, hospital departments are matched with the families of current or former patients, and collect gifts that are delivered just in time for the holidays. Organizer Linda Roberts has continued to run the program even after retiring from St. Joe's, and says that donations over the years have been overwhelming. Grocery gift cards, Greyhound bus tickets home, and the newest tech gadgets are just some of the programs many Christmas miracles. If you, or your department, would like to sponsor a family next year, please contact Jimena Silliker, Interim Manager, in the Department of Social Work for more information.

The Therapeutic Recreation staff handed out holiday gift bags to patients again this year during the West 5th annual Christmas dance on December 16th. Collection of new men's and women's seasonal attire begins with the Winter Warmer Wear Drive in November, and wraps up December 2nd to allow plenty of time for the St. Joe's elves to prepare the patients' presents. If your department would like to learn more about how to help next holiday season, contact Sandra Berzatis-Smith in Centralized Rehabilitation Services.

The Charlton Campus food drive began its seventh campaign this Christmas in collaboration with Hamilton Food Share. To date, over 2400 lbs of food and $3060 in monetary donations have been collected to help provide festive feasts for those in need, and every dollar donated to Hamilton Food Share raises $5 worth of food. To find out how to get involved, contact Deborah Walsh in Finance. A new food drive was hosted this year by Spiritual Care at the West 5th Campus. Food and monetary donations were collected to sponsor Neighbour to Neighbour, a Hamilton Mountain food bank. Please contact Janet Young, Chaplain in Spiritual Care, to find out how to take part next December.

The annual Charlton Campus Tree Lighting Ceremony took place November 30 and Marijana Ivosevic, a patient in Complex Care (pictured below), was among many who visited with Father Christmas and joined in singing classic yuletide carols.

Budget pressures facing St. Joseph's Healthcare Hamilton 2015/16 - 2016/17

St. Joseph's Healthcare Hamilton is working through its budget process for 2015/16 and 2016/17. There are many factors affecting the financial situation in health care today and how hospitals are funded. This graphic illustrates some of the fiscal pressures on health care and the need to find cost savings to achieve a balanced budget.

Celebrating a New Era in Family-Centered Care in the Mother Baby Unit

Teresa Cascioli (Far right) joins parents and their little ones on a tour of the Mother Baby Unit at the new Communication Station unveiling on Wednesday, December 2nd, 2015.

ust in time for the holidays and the first baby of 2016, the new Teresa Cascioli Charitable Foundation Communication Station was unveiled in the Mother Baby Unit on Wednesday, December 2nd, 2015. Thanks to a generous $2 million gift from Teresa Cascioli, the station not only gives the Unit a facelift, but will also help to streamline work, create efficiencies, and most importantly, give new moms and babies the best start possible for a healthy future.

What inspired Ms. Cascioli to support Women's & Infants' care at St. Joe's? To her, it was an obvious choice. "Women have the ability to multi-task, the tenacity to lead, and the courage to deal with difficult issues; we also constantly put ourselves second. This makes us unique, and the health issues we face are often unique too," she shared.

Anna Marie Smith, Nurse Manager of the Mother Bay Unit here at St. Joe's, described just how impactful Ms. Cascioli's gift has been. "We deliver close to 3,600 babies every year, and there is a constant need to provide the most leading-edge services so that both mom and baby have a healthy start. The new Communication Station addresses this need and gives our staff the ability to deliver exceptional care in a space that fosters a family-centered approach. Our staff, as well as the new moms and families who visit our Unit, are forever grateful to Ms. Cascioli."

Over the years, Ms. Cascioli has been a generous supporter of St. Joe's, from surgical care to breast diagnostics and research. Through her philanthropy, she's had a tremendous impact on our Hospital and the care that we're honoured to provide. On behalf of the Foundation, our Women's & Infants' Program, and the community we serve, we thank Teresa for her unwavering support and truly transformational gift in support of women's healthcare at St. Joe's.

St. Joe's Research Demonstrates Differences between Cancer Surgery Across Canada

A new study commissioned and led by St. Joseph's Healthcare Hamilton researchers shows that there are "tremendous" differences between provinces regarding complications and death rates for patients undergoing high-risk cancer surgery.

The study, commissioned by the Canadian Partnerships Against Cancer, has found that higher volume centres tend to have significantly lower risks of in-hospital mortality and shorter length of stays. It has also uncovered wide differences in the duration of hospital stays, a sign of system efficiency, and differing hospitalization policies.

Dr. Christian Finley, Thoracic Surgeon at St. Joseph's Healthcare Hamilton and one of the study's lead authors, states that "patients requiring complex surgeries can benefit from having their procedure performed at a regional centre of excellence, where these types of surgery would be performed more often."

Dr. Finley notes that "regionalization" of high-risk surgeries to specific centres that specialize in them would benefit not only the patient, but health care teams as well. Regionalization would provide more opportunities for surgeons to build their skills in complicated surgeries, and it would also encourage the development of specialized nurses, anesthesiologists, and radiologists.

The Thoracic Surgery division at St. Joseph's Healthcare Hamilton is one of the largest thoracic centres in Ontario. We are the designated Regional Thoracic Centre for the Hamilton-Niagara-Haldimand-Brant Local Health Integration Network (LHIN 4), with a total service population of 1.8 million people.
