Schizophrenia Outpatient Clinic Program: A Guidebook for Families and Caregivers

Artist: Ronson Green

St. Joseph’s Healthcare Hamilton
Introduction

Since the Schizophrenia Outpatient Clinic opened its doors we have been very aware of the importance of including family to ensure our clients receive the best possible care. We know that the more knowledge family members have about services in the community as well as how to successfully navigate the healthcare system the more successful our client’s journey to recovery.

It is for this reason that the Family Engagement Committee was created—to come up with new ways that we can support family members and provide them with the resources they need. The idea to create a guidebook for families came out of this desire to support families to the best of our abilities.

This Guidebook was created by the Schizophrenia Outpatient Clinic (SOC) Family Engagement Committee (Katelyn Hallas, Coralie Hecker, Alexandra Kraus), the Manager of SOC (Alycia Gillespie) as well as the Family Advisory Council in conjunction with McMaster Occupational Therapy student Fathima Tuan Kichil. The guidebook will provide you with some information about SOC as well as tips, strategies and resources in Hamilton to help support your family member living with a psychotic disorder.

It is our hope that this guidebook will be used by families in order to increase knowledge of the illness as well as what supports and resources are available to you in the community. We also hope that you can use some of the strategies suggested to build stronger relationships while supporting someone living with a psychotic disorder.

We especially want you to know that you are not alone on this journey. Use the information in this guide and the resources to ensure you also take care of yourself and seek support.

AIM
Supporting individuals living with schizophrenia or psychosis to manage their health, and to live meaningful lives through the provision of innovative, compassionate, and specialized mental health services.

OUR TEAM
- Nurse
- Social worker
- Occupational therapist
- Psychologist
- Psychiatrist
- Therapeutic Recreationist
- Nurse Practitioner
- Addiction Counsellor
- Vocational Counsellor

We believe everyone can:
- Grow, learn, and take back some control.
- Live well with a mental illness.

OUTPATIENT SERVICES
Diagnostic and Medication Consultation
- Individual Care Plans and Rehabilitation
- Group Opportunities
- Educational Opportunities for Student Learners
- Research Initiatives

WHAT WE DO
We are an outpatient clinic dedicated to providing collaborative, person-centered services that focus on self-management and recovery.

In a case management model, an interdisciplinary team provides consultations, personally tailored assessments, treatments and rehabilitation both individually and in a group setting.
Clients registered at the Schizophrenia Outpatient Clinic will be provided with a psychiatrist and one other healthcare provider referred to as the “Most Responsible Clinician” (MRC). The MRC is the client’s primary contact person and can be any member of our interdisciplinary team.

The MRC will:
- Talk with clients about needs and concerns
- Discuss clients’ goals and plans
- Help clients obtain the right service from the right people, at the right time
- Support clients through difficult times

TAKE CHARGE OF YOUR HEALTH!

We are here to help you take charge of your life and your health. To achieve the best results, we need to work together!

WE ENCOURAGE YOU TO:

Participate:
- Ask questions. Be involved in decisions about your treatment and care.
- You can improve your health and wellness by participating in activities and trying new things. You’ll gain confidence and feel more in control of your life.
- Learn about living well, experiment, and listen to others’ experiences and recoveries.

Communicate:
- Speak up if you have questions or concerns.
- Let us know your needs. To create an effective care plan, we need to know your experiences, preferences, needs, and hopes.
- We wish to be sensitive to the diversity of all kinds (language, culture, ethnicity, religion, gender, age, and sexual orientation).
- Tell us what has helped you deal with stress and situations in the past.
We offer support and education to families through our...

Family Engagement Program

The Family Education Program (FEP) is a three-month psycho-educational program that is offered to family members and emphasizes education about the illness, problem-solving techniques, crisis, and communication skills while also offering support and instilling hope.

Research shows that family members can play an important role in their relative’s recovery. The recovery process can be challenging. The goal of this program is to educate and support families to meet these challenges.

Studies have shown that similar programs to FEP have been effective in reducing the relapse rate of the person with schizophrenia as well as providing a more harmonious emotional climate for the family.

Objectives:

1. To provide families with information about the cause, treatment, course, and management of schizophrenia.
2. To help family members identify problems in the management of their ill relative.
3. To help family members develop specific management strategies to deal with this problem.
4. To enlist support from family members for interventions such as medication or more independent living.
5. To teach family members to communicate with their relative in a positive, uncritical manner while encouraging independence.
6. To provide family members with the opportunity to develop emotional and social support outside the immediate family through the identification of resources and supports in the community or online.
Language Matters

Stigma is about disrespect. It hurts, punishes and diminishes people. It harms and undermines all relationships. It appears in behaviours, language, attitudes, posture and tone of voice. It happens even when we do not mean it.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Disrespectful language</th>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>Handicapped person Person with a disability</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Slow, low-functioning Sufferer Person who has cognitive difficulties</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Some Suggestions
- Do put people first, not their disabilities. Say, for example, “person with a mental health issue” rather than “schizophrenic.”
- Do emphasize abilities, not limitations (Example: Your illness has made you more empathetic towards others vs. separates you from others)
- Do focus on issues that affect the quality of life for everyone e.g., accessible transportation, housing, affordable health care, etc. Do not focus on disability.
- Do not portray successful persons with disabilities as superhumans. This carries expectations for others and is patronizing to those who make various achievements.
- Do not sensationalize a disability. This means not using terms such as “afflicted with”, “suffers from”, “victim of”, etc.
- Do not use generic labels, such as “the retarded”, “our mentally ill”, etc.
- Do not use the psychiatric diagnosis as metaphors for other situations e.g., a “schizophrenic situation.” This is not only stigmatizing but also inaccurate.
Understanding Schizophrenia

WHAT IS SCHIZOPHRENIA?

Schizophrenia is a long-term mental illness that affects how the brain works. Therefore, it changes how you think, feel, and act. For example, people with schizophrenia will have difficulty telling the difference between what is real and what is imagined. They may also have difficulty with communicating with others, making decisions, thinking clearly, and responding emotionally.

CAUSES

Schizophrenia is a highly treatable brain disease. It is a biological brain disease that affects thinking, perception, mood, behaviour, and communication. The cause of this illness is not yet understood. We do know that schizophrenia is not caused by bad parenting, trauma, abuse or personal weakness.

Schizophrenia develops in one out of every 100 people – that is 1% of the general population. It is actually quite a common illness said to affect about 280,000 people in Canada alone.

TREATMENT

Schizophrenia is not curable, but it is HIGHLY TREATABLE. There have been great strides forward in understanding the symptoms and developing better and more effective medications as well as psychosocial treatments.

SYMPTOMS OF SCHIZOPHRENIA

Symptoms of schizophrenia can affect many areas of a person’s life, such as being able to keep up with friends, housing, money, and work. These symptoms are divided into 3 categories.

- Positive symptoms: thoughts and feelings that are “added on” to someone’s life.
- Negative symptoms: thoughts and feelings that are “taken away” from someone’s life.
- Cognitive symptoms: affected ability to understand and use information.

WHAT IS PSYCHOSIS?

Psychosis is a common symptom of schizophrenia. Psychosis is when someone loses contact with reality, and usually involves hallucinations and delusions. Because of this, people with schizophrenia may feel scared, anxious, frustrated, paranoid, and may avoid going outside or seeing people. The transition into psychosis can be a very slow and gradual change or a very sudden change. The average length of time it takes for a person to become psychotic is up to about 18 months.

WHAT ARE HALLUCINATIONS?
Hallucinations occur when people hear, see, taste, smell, or feel something that is not real. The most common hallucination is hearing voices. These voices can:
- Seem very real to the person
- Sound like they are coming from their mind or from someone else
- Talk directly to the person and/or command the person to do things

WHAT ARE DELUSIONS?
Delusions are fixed, false beliefs that are not real. Common delusions include thinking:
- That they are famous, wealthy, powerful (delusions of grandeur)
- That everything is somehow connected to them (delusions of reference)
- That people are reading their minds, controlling their thoughts, or plotting to harm them (delusions of persecution)

SIGNS/SYMPTOMS/EARLY WARNING SIGNS
Most families, when they look back (and hindsight is always perfect), feel that something was changing in their relative long before they noticed full-fledged psychosis. Here is a list of early warning signs that may be present in your relative:

PRE-PsychoSis PHASE/EARLY WARNING SIGNS
- More withdrawn
- Irritability
- Fearful
- Poor concentration, memory
- Low energy
- Sleeping less well
- Energy change (up or down)
- Mood change (up or down)
- More sensitive to stimulation by noise, light, people, TV, etc.
- Change in voices or responses to voices
- More fearful
- Suspicousness

ACUTE PHASE
- Energy changes
- Poor judgement and insight

STRESS
Individuals with schizophrenia are quite vulnerable to stress. Stress can take many forms. Interacting with other people can be a stress. Even interacting with people they know well can be a stress and cause for concern. Stress can include: physical, mental, emotional, environmental, chemical, financial, spiritual, social and dietary stressors.

Understanding Schizoaffective Disorder

WHAT IS SCHIZOAFFECTIVE DISORDER?
’schizo’ – refers to psychotic symptoms || ‘-affective’– refers mood symptoms

Schizoaffective disorder is a chronic mental health condition, where an individual experiences symptoms of schizophrenia (hallucinations and/or delusions) and mood disorders (bipolar or depression). Mood disturbances can be expressed as mania or depression. The symptoms may appear at the same time or alternate.

SYMPTOMS OF SCHIZOAFFECTIVE DISORDER

Diagnosing schizoaffective disorder can be difficult; therefore, symptoms of schizoaffective disorder should be monitored closely. Symptoms can include:

- Hallucinations
- Delusions
- Disorganized thinking/Impaired Communication, quickly switching from one topic to another or providing answers that are completely unrelated
- Depressed mood, feelings of sadness, emptiness, feelings of worthlessness or other symptoms of depression
- Manic behaviour, feelings of euphoria, racing thoughts, increased risky behaviour and other symptoms of mania
- Impaired occupational, academic, and social functioning
- Problems with self-care (cleanliness and physical appearance)

TYPES OF SCHIZOAFFECTIVE DISORDER

There are two types of schizoaffective disorders, depending on the type of mood disorder an individual may have. The two types are:

- Bipolar type: individuals alternate between periods of “highs” (manic episodes) and “lows” (depressive episodes)
- Depressive type: individuals experience only depressive episodes

MANIC VS. DEPRESSIVE EPISODES

- Manic episodes: increased energy, activity, irritability; inability to sleep; reckless behaviour
- Depressive episodes: low energy and activity; feelings of sadness and hopelessness; decreased performance of everyday activities

TREATMENT

- Medications
- Psychotherapy
- Self-management strategies (skills and confidence to manage and live well with an illness)

Tips & Suggestions for Communicating with Your Loved One

STRATEGIES FOR HELPFUL COMMUNICATION

- Make your expectations clear, straightforward, and manageable
- Relate in a supportive, non-critical way
- Show warmth and understanding
- Communicate in a calm manner and voice
- Invite cooperation
- Get involved but avoid becoming over-involved or over-protective
- Set out reasonable expectations (neither too high nor too low)
- If limit settings become necessary, use fair, enforceable consequences
- Use humour (the type your relative enjoys)
- Speak in clear sentences.
- Keep your voice, tone, rate of speech, posture calm and collected.
- Be considerate of their personal space.
- Make sure your relative has understood what you said.
- Give directions one at a time.
- Try to invite distractions when your relative is bothered by voices.
- Never assume your relative is deliberatively forgetting or ignoring you.
  - Sometimes voices interfere with one’s ability to follow through and can be very distracting.
  - Some voices are very negative and can affect the ill relative’s confidence.
    - Have compassion for this experience and encourage your relative to temporarily withdraw from highly stimulating social settings if they feel the need.
- Do not argue about what the voices have said.
  - Remember that the voices are real to the person. Do not refer to the voices as “in your head,” “imaginary,” or “not real.”

UNHELPFUL COMMUNICATION

- Nagging
- Criticism
- Heavy sarcasm
- Hostility
- Expressing multiple ideas at once
- Threats
How Can I Help My Loved One Manage Voices?

- “Voices” may be sounds, noises or sensations and may be very difficult to explain
- 4% to 5% of the general population hears voices at some point in their lives
- Voices, an increase or change in tone, times or duration, can be a response to stress

Here are some suggestions that have worked for individuals. You may need to experiment to find the best solution or combination that works for you.

Coping as a Family

When your family member was first diagnosed with schizophrenia, you may have experienced a sense of grief or loss over the person you once knew.

Grief is a process. It usually starts with a sense of shock, and includes denial, anger, and sadness. The final phase is acceptance.

In order to accept schizophrenia, it may help to:

- Acknowledge the illness and recognize the impact it will have on your family. Living with any chronic illness will change day-to-day life.
- Learn more about schizophrenia. Understanding the illness will help you better respond to your family member.
- Talk to family members and friends. Let them take on some of the responsibility for caregiving.
- Talk to someone you can trust, a good friend, a health care professional, clergy, or a family member.
- Maintain balance in your life. There is more to your ill relative than schizophrenia.

Between 40% and 50% of people with schizophrenia live with their families. The emotional stress of caring for someone with schizophrenia can be overwhelming. It is common to feel a wide range of emotions, such as fear, shame, anger, helplessness, resentment, sadness, depression and guilt.

The symptoms of schizophrenia, particularly bizarre behaviour, can strain relationships. Family members should not take these behaviours personally but should recognize that they are symptoms of the illness.

If you are a primary caregiver, it is important to take care of yourself. Your health and happiness are important. If you neglect your own needs, you risk burning out.

- Keep family life as normal as possible. Maintain routines.
- Get involved with a family support group. (Schizophrenia Society of Ontario: (905) 523-7413 or Schizophrenia Services Family Education group: 905-522-1155 ext. 36446
- Be prepared for emergency situations.
- Consider ways to get involved and advocate for your family member and others with schizophrenia. This can help your healing. (Family Advisory Council 905-522-1155 ext. 36446)
“Taking Care of Me”

If you do not preserve your own health, it is much harder to assist your ill relative.

Juggling demands – family members often think that they must look after others first, often not getting their own needs met at all.

It is important for both YOU and your ill relative to eat healthy, get good sleep and exercise.

Questions to ask yourself to identify signs of caregiver stress:

- What do I do to preserve my health?
- How do I pace myself? What else might help?
- Do I feel overwhelmed or constantly worried?
- Am I feeling tired often? Am I getting enough sleep?
- Am I losing interest in the activities I used to enjoy?
- Am I eating healthy?
- Am I getting physical exercise?
- Am I feeling stressed?
- Am I gaining weight? Am I losing weight?
- Am I abusing alcohol or drugs (including prescription medications)?

IF you answered “YES” to the above questions, here are some suggestions for you to consider:

- Take care of your own needs (emotional, physical, and social).
- Get involved with a family support group.
- Be aware of what frustrates you and find ways to cope. It helps to address just one stressful thing at a time.
- Make time for things you enjoy (hobbies, physical activity, social events).
- You may need to contact a social worker or psychiatrist, in order to better cope with the impact of the illness.
- Try not to let the illness take over your life. It is okay to worry and grieve but remember there is nothing you could have done to prevent it.
- Set realistic expectations for yourself.
- Focus on what you are able to provide.
- Get connected to other caregiving resources in your community. (Check out the last section in this package to find supports)
- Seek social support.
- Set personal health goals.
- Stress-relieving activities:
  - Go for a 15-minute walk.
  - Eat sensibly.
- Spend time with family and friends.
- Get some rest.
- Deep breathing exercises.

Reminder to recognize and use existing skills – past successes and those things that make life more manageable and give pleasure. People often feel that they have no skills or resources when stressed.

Understanding Medications

Non-adherence is a common issue; monitor for swallowing/cheeking/stockpiling

With medication treatments, positive symptoms of schizophrenia lessen, and recovery is in sight. Treatment of schizophrenia always involves medications to deal with the chemical imbalances.

Medication plays a role in recovery from a psychotic episode and in prevention of further episodes.

Staying in treatment and taking medications can be difficult. Sometimes a person may feel they have recovered and no longer see a need for treatment but continuing with medications can help a person stay in control of their life.

Dropping out of treatment will almost certainly make the illness worse and a return of symptoms will disrupt educational pursuits, work and friendships.

Just like heart disease, diabetes or asthma, schizophrenia requires ongoing treatment to keep the individual as healthy as possible.

Long-Acting Injectable (LAI) Antipsychotics:

WHAT IS IT?
- Injectable antipsychotic medications are administered through injections directly into muscles. Injectable medications tend to stay in your body longer; therefore, you do not need to take pills every day.
- Antipsychotic medications that come in long-lasting injectable forms include:
  - Olanzapine pamoate (Zyprexa Relprevv)
  - Paliperidone (Invega Sustenna, Invega Trinza)
  - Risperidone (Risperdal Consta)
  - Aripiprazole (Abilify Maintena)
  - Aripiprazole lauroxil (Aristada)
  - Fluphenazine (Prolixin)
  - Haloperidol (Haldol)

HOW LONG DOES IT WORK?
- Injectables can be delivered every 2 to 4 weeks or every 3 months, depending on the medication.

CAN I DO IT MYSELF?
- You don’t inject the injectable yourself. You need to go to a doctor or nurse!
- The medication is injected into your upper arm or buttocks.

WHAT ARE THE BENEFITS?

1. Increased adherence
2. Decreased overdose potential
3. Studies show that injectable antipsychotics appears to reduce the risk of hospitalizations when compared to oral antipsychotics

WHAT ARE THE DISADVANTAGES?
Similar to any medications, there are risks for side effects. There is also reduced flexibility in dosing and possible injection site reactions. Some people may not like that they have to have a needle. Talk to your psychiatrist or MRC to find out more.

Community Treatment Order

WHAT IS IT?
A Community Treatment Order (CTO) is an order to provide a person who has a serious mental illness with a plan that allows them to receive treatment in the community (i.e. their homes) or care with supervision. The CTO identifies a plan for the person with mental illness and their supports (family, friends and healthcare providers).

WHY?
It is a mutual agreement, agreed upon with the client, healthcare providers, and substitute-decision makers (SDM) and it provides clients with more freedom than being detained in a psychiatric facility. It helps individuals with medication compliance/management and provides an alternative to hospitalization.

HOW?
A doctor can issue a CTO when the client meets specific criteria including:

a. The person must have been in a psychiatric facility two or more times or for a cumulative period of 30 days or more in the previous three years or have been on a previous CTO. A Community Treatment Plan (CTP) has been developed in consultation with those named in the CTP.

b. The psychiatrist must also examine the person 72 hours prior to entering the CTO and be of the opinion that:

i. The person is living with a mental disorder and needs treatment or care and continuing supervision while living in the community

ii. If the person is not in a psychiatric facility, they meet the criteria for a Form 1-Application for Psychiatric Assessment

iii. If the person does not receive continuing treatment or care and supervision in the community, the person is likely to cause serious bodily harm to self or others or suffer substantial mental or physical deterioration or serious physical impairments.

iv. The person is able to comply with the plan

v. The treatment or care and supervision are available in the community.

The doctor must have consulted with the health practitioners and others named in the Community Treatment Plan, must be satisfied that the person or the Substitute Decision Maker (SDM) has consulted with a Rights Advisor and when consent has been obtained from the individual or SDM.
Community Treatment Plan (CTP)

This is developed before a CTO is issued with all those party to the CTP. Each person named in the plan will have a role to play in the provision of care and these responsibilities are defined during the development of the plan. A CTP might include such things as:

- Regularly scheduled meetings with the doctor,
- Regularly scheduled meetings with the Most Responsible Clinician (MRC)
- Assistance with medication and treatment,

How Can Families Be Involved?

If you feel that a CTO would be of benefit, speak to the doctor or the MRC.

Your role may be as the Substitute Decision Maker for treatment if your relative is incapable to make treatment decisions as defined under the Health Care Consent Act, 1996.

For more information, call the CTO Coordinator at 905-522-1155 ext. 36321 or 36742 or visit the Ministry of Health and Long-Term Care Website at www.gov.on.ca/health
COMMON LEGAL FORMS

Form 1 (Application for Psychiatric Assessment)
- Can be used to bring someone to a psychiatry facility for an assessment that lasts up to 72 hours (three days).
- To put someone on a Form 1, a doctor must have personally examined the person within the previous seven days and have reason to believe that the person meets certain tests under the Mental Health Act.
- Form 1 also ensures that another doctor will examine the person with mental health concerns. During the assessment, other mental health professionals (e.g., nurses, psychologists, and social workers) may meet with the person and their involved family members, friends or caregivers to get additional information.

Form 2 (Order for Examination)
- Is used under the same conditions as the Form 1 but is issued by a Justice of the Peace.
- Typically, the Form 2 is used by a person’s family or friends when it is not possible for the person to be examined by a doctor. This form allows the police to bring the person to a hospital for a psychiatric assessment.
- However, the form does not authorize for the person to be kept at the hospital. If an assessment in the hospital is necessary, the examining doctor must then complete a Form 1.

Form 3 (Certification of Involuntary Admission)
- Is used to admit the person to the hospital against their will.
- A Form 3 cannot be issued by the same doctor who issued the Form 1. The Form 3 means that the person will have to stay in hospital for up to two weeks.
- The person has a right to have the Consent and Capacity Board quickly review the form.

Form 4 (Certificate of Renewal)
- Is used when a doctor determines that the person must remain in the hospital involuntarily for another month.
- This certificate can later be renewed so that the person has to stay for another two months (second renewal) or up to three months (third renewal or more).
- The certificate can be renewed indefinitely. Each time it is renewed, the person can apply for a review by the Consent and Capacity Board.

Form 5 (Change to Voluntary Status)
- Is used when a doctor determines that the person does not need to be kept involuntarily anymore.
- This form can be completed at any time to end a Form 3 or a Form 4 before it expires.
A patient is automatically considered voluntary once their certificate expires and another one is not completed.

Form 14 (Consent to the Disclosure, Transmittal or Examination of a Clinical Record)

- Is issued when a patient wants to give another person permission to see or get a copy of their clinical record.

Form 28 (Request to examine or to copy Clinical Record)

- Is used by a person who wants to get a copy of their own clinical record.

Form 47 (Apprehension Orders/Order for Examination)

- A Form 47 may be issued by the doctor if the client fails to attend appointments or take prescribed medications. Prior to the issuance of a Form 47, efforts will be made to contact the client and provide support to the client to follow the CTO.

- If a Form 47 is issued – the Hamilton Police Services and COAST will be notified jointly – and the client will be taken to the nearest emergency room for assessment.
