

My father took his life in 1983 when I was 10 years old.

I've never truly been open about it. Bound by the privacy of our family life and the secrecy of suicide, our family has had more tribulations than I can count. It's time to start talking about it.

This project has inspired me to begin conversations with both my mother and my brother. It's an opportunity for me to become open in all facets of my life.
